

HEALTH REPUBLIC INSURANCE OF NEW YORK, CORP.
in Liquidation (“Health Republic”)

Policyholder Address Verification Form Frequently Asked Questions

Who is required to submit a Policyholder Address Verification Form?

- The Policyholder Address Verification Form is required to be completed by any former policyholder of Health Republic with an allowed claim. All other creditors are required to complete a Form W-9.

Which address should I provide on the Policyholder Address Verification Form?

- On the Policyholder Address Verification Form, you must input your current home/ mailing address. Do not use a P.O. Box address.

What if my address has changed?

- If you have changed your address since the date of Health Republic’s liquidation (May 11, 2016), you must check the box and upload one of the following documents: driver license, driver permit, or government-issued non-driver ID; recent W-2 yearly income tax form; recent bank statement (within the last three months); or recent utility bill (within the last three months).

What is the purpose of the Policyholder Address Verification Form?

- This purpose of this form is to verify the Liquidator’s records. Address verification is required for Health Republic to make distributions to policyholders with allowed claims. You may be asked to provide additional information to document any changes to your contact information or mailing address.

Is there a deadline for submitting the Policyholder Address Verification Form?

- Health Republic intends to begin making distributions in 2023 and to close the estate by 2024. Submission of the Policyholder Address Verification Form is a precondition of receiving a distribution. Creditors who do not submit a Policyholder Address Verification Form or whose information cannot be validated by the time the Liquidator files a closing report with the court supervising the liquidation proceeding will not receive a distribution. Such distributions will be placed in a segregated account pending closure of the estate, and thereafter handled in accordance with New York Abandoned Property Law.

Who do I contact if I have questions?

- If you have other questions, please submit an online inquiry at Submit an Inquiry. If you require technical assistance, please call (866) 680-0893.
